10 CENTS PER WEEK.

BOTH CONFIDENT.

The General Order for Steel Strike Not Issued--Preparing for Conflict.

Pittsburg, August 6.—The general steel strike order has not yet been issued, and is not expected until the last of the week. The steel combine claims that it is starting up its mills with non-union labor in two or three places.

The following dispatches show the trend of affairs:

Pittsburg, August 6.—Interviews were had today with local and national officials of various labor organizations on the Amalgamated strike.

Simon Burns, president of the Window Glass Workers' Association, said: "The Glass Workers' Association is in thorough sympathy with the Amalgamated men. We will give them substantial aid, when it is necessary."

L. B. Thomas, president of the Pattern Makers' League: "We will give the Amalgamated Association all the assistance in our power."

I. N. Myers, member of the national executive board of Knights of Labor: "The Knights of Labor have offered and will give them practical aid when they need it."

John P. Ryan, general secretary of the structural iron workers: "The Amalgamated Association will have the sympathy and help of all organized labor."

John Knisner, president and treasurer of the American Flint Glass Workers' union: "Without regard to our sympathies, I prefer not to interfere in the Amalgamated troubles by making a statement."

New York, August 6.—It was reported on the stock exchange today that the Underwriting Syndicate, which supplied $300,000,000 for the "financial support" of the United States Steel Corporation has been assessed another 13 1/2 per cent which, it was said, showed clearly in the increase in loans in Saturday's bank statements. It was asserted in this connection that the amount thus secured was to be employed as sinews of war in the fight against the labor union and incidentally forestall bear attacks on the trust securities. This, however, was denied in official quarters.

VISITORS WED.

Young Lady of Paris, Tenn., Marries a Man From Illinois.

Couple Left at Noon for a Bridal Tour East—They Will Reside in Illinois.

Miss Mary L. Van Dyck, of Paris, Tenn., and Mr. A. B. Hanson, of Illinois, were married at the residence of Mr. Alex. Woolfolk at Ninth and Jefferson streets this morning at 10:30 o'clock by Rev. W. H. Pinkerton, of the First Christian church.

Miss Van Dyck comes of a prominent Tennessee family and has many friends who will be pleasantly surprised to learn of her marriage.

Mr. Hanson is a prominent merchant of Hintonville and has numerous friends there. The bride has been visiting Miss Lydia Woolfolk and came here several days ago by agreement with her fiancé. They left at noon for Buffalo and a bridal tour east, and will reside at Hintonville.

The groom is a prominent young banker and the bride has often visited Miss Woolfolk here. When she left home Sunday nothing was known of her intended marriage, hence it will come as a great surprise.

NO DOUBT SUICIDE.

THE INQUEST OVER THE REMAINS OF REV. JAMES M. FRAZIER NOT COMPLETED.

Justice R. J. Barber yesterday afternoon late at Nance's undertaking establishment began the inquest over the remains of Rev. James M. Frazier, the venerable Presbyterian minister who drowned himself in the Ohio river some time Sunday night. The evidence is clear that he committed suicide, but all the testimony has not yet been heard, and no verdict has been rendered.

The sons of the deceased have been telegraphed, but until they are heard from, no funeral arrangements will be made. Meanwhile the remains are at Nance's undertaking establishment.

POLICE COURT.

SEVERAL FINES ASSESSED THIS MORNING BY JUDGE SANDERS.

Arthur Jameson, a colored youth from Nashville, came to Paducah to get work, and got it. About twenty-seven days on the chain-gang is what he has at present, and he will not be open to engagements until the expiration of that time. He secured work about a house and stole a pair of scissors. He was fined $20 and costs for disorderly conduct.

Elam Schmidt, John Ferrell, R. B. Fair, were fined $1 and costs for plain drunks.

Amanda Christmas and Novella Greer, colored, were charged with using insulting language. The Knox woman was released on her own recognizance and the other was fined $5 and costs.

Roger Furey, for violation of the Sabbath, was fined $10 and costs.

HEAD END.

Two Freight Trains Collide at Princeton, Ky.

The Wrecker Sent Out—No One Hurt in the Accident.

There was a head-end collision of freight trains, number 133 and 134 this morning about 7:30 at Princeton, probably caused by a defect in the air of one of the trains.

No. 133 was in charge of Engineer Singletary and Conductor Dawes and the engine was derailed along with four freight cars. The freight in the cars was not damaged to any extent, however. The train was made up of about 30 cars.

No. 134 was in charge of Engineer Henry Fries and Conductor Hart and kept the track. The pilot on the engine was wrecked but otherwise the train sustained no damages.

No one was injured in the accident. The wrecker was ordered out about 8 o'clock and left several minutes in advance of the Illinois Central employees piecemeal train.

FLOURISHING BUSINESS.

AND NOW JOHN STEELE WILL PROBABLY HAVE TO PAY FOR IT.

U. S. Deputy Marshal La Rue, although grieving the loss of his prize pipe, is still in the ring and made another arrest yesterday afternoon. He arrested John Steele, white, who sold beer at the Portion bridge picnic several days ago and who was released yesterday from the county jail after having been tried before Judge Emery for the offense. The arrest was made on a government warrant and the young man is still confined at the jail, where he was rearrested. He is said to have had four half barrels of the malt beverage and was doing a flourishing business when arrested by the constable at the above mentioned place. He will be taken to Hopkinsville tomorrow or as soon as the witnesses can be procured, for trial before commissioner Ferguson. He will not get off so lightly with the government as he did with the county.

TRAVELS FAST.

PADUCAH'S BAND GAINS AN ENVIABLE REPUTATION ABROAD.

Prof. John Dean received a letter from Kansas City Commander of Knights Templars this morning asking about an engagement with the band to furnish music for the Kansas City Commandery on the 25th in Louisville. The fame of the local band is traveling fast and the above communication to the instructor is a fair example of the name the band has made for itself abroad. Prof. Dean considers it a compliment indeed to be recognized from such a distance and especially when there are other bands much nearer Kansas City and that have a name of their own. The engagement has not yet been closed, but an agreement will probably be made soon.

Strained, "and that is better than nothing and seeing nothing I would have been the case had I stayed home."

"Well, you're back in good luck, checked the old man. There's to be a pretty wedding here this morning and if you're civil you may get a chance to salute the bride."

"Good luck to be sure. And may be the happy man!"

The old man straightened himself up, sir. The argument will be

BIG GUNS

Several Prominent B. & O. S. W. Officials in Paducah This Morning.

THEY WENT TO JOPPA

Large Crowd Left on the Illinois Central Excursion This Morning—Fine Day for the Outing.

ALL THE NEWS OF THE RAILROAD

A party of prominent Baltimore, and Ohio Southwestern railroad officials were in the city today en route to Joppa, Ill., where they went to make an inspection of the incline and other excellent improvements made by Terminal Supt. J. F. Browninski, of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois.

The party arrived last night on a special private car, and left on the Fowler with Mr. Browninski for Joppa. In the crowd were General Supt. T. G. Ramm, and Secretary W. J. Henscott, D. D. Caruthers, Chief Engineer; J. G. Kenner, General Master Mechanic; Manager Budd, of the transfer at Cincinnati, and Agent Fish, of Cincinnati.

The long trip from Cincinnati to Joppa just to get pointers from Mr. Browninski's work there, is quite a compliment to that popular gentleman. The crowd will return on the Fowler tonight.

The shops presented a peaceful appearance this morning when a Sun representative made his rounds of the railroad.

There were a few men in the round house but the shops were all closed and no one was at work. The excursion train, twelve coaches, one baggage car and one baggage car, left Broadway shortly after 9 o'clock. The delay was occasioned by the wrecker being made up and sent to Princeton to clear the main track. The coaches were filled to overflowing and many men and boys were on top of the coaches and caboose as no more available room inside the coaches could be obtained. Several dozen railroad families arrived in the city this morning from Fulton and Mayfield to attend the picnic and a crowd of several hundred were awaiting the arrival of the excursion train at the Illinois Central passenger depot. The outing will be the most enjoyable ever held.

Mr. John Deagler, the night chief yard clerk of the Illinois Central here, has gone on a week's vacation. Night Checker Stevenson is substituted and Mr. J. G. Hunter, of Princeton, will act as substitute for Mr. Stevenson.

Conductor Connor, train No. 104, reported a sleeping car porter missing last night from the train. As there are no reports of an accident it is probable that he only got left at that place.

RICH HAUL.

THIEVES GET AWAY WITH QUARTER OF A MILLION.

San Francisco, August 6.—At Yellito, Calif., thieves tunneled from river to the Shelby smelter, stole a quarter of a million and escaped. They are being pursued, but it is thought will not be captured.

FUNERAL IN BERLIN.

Gronberg, Aug. 6.—The Empress Frederick's funeral will probably occur in Berlin Thursday.

The liquor license of Mr. J. J. Crawford was today transferred in county court to Mr. Casper Jones.

VERY ACTIVE

Over Forty Houses are to Be Built in Paducah Soon.

GREAT ACTIVITY SHOWN

New Buildings Nearing Completion at Present are Credits to Growing Paducah.

OTHERS ARE IN CONTEMPLATION

Paducah is growing rapidly in every direction. While the records in City Engineer Wilcox's office do not show an unusually large number of buildings in course of construction, many are nevertheless being built, and a wall known lumber firm during the past few days has sold bills for forty complete houses, all of which are to be begun at once.

They are frame buildings, and there are in contemplation many brick buildings as well. There are now contracts to be let in a few days for three large brick buildings, the location of which has not yet been made public. The Masonic Odd Fellows building on Broadway near Fifth will probably be under way before very long as soon as the directors decide on the amount of money to expend in its construction. The present plans call for a magnificent structure to cost about $45,000, and if the money can be raised it will be started at once. If not a less costly one will be built.

The new Ogilvie building at Fourth and Broadway is nearly complete, and is an ornament to the city. It is in the hands of the plasterers, and will soon be ready for occupancy. It is one of the finest edifices in this part of the state.

The new opera house is rapidly nearing completion and will be ready for the opening next month. The decorators now have charge, and the public will be astonished at the magnificence displayed, when the handsome new Kentucky is thrown open for the season.

Among the localities rapidly building up are Little's and Worton's Addition. The houses are all frame, but convenient, and find ready tenants. In many localities the population has so increased that the city is called upon at nearly every council meeting to provide street improvements and sidewalks, and extend water mains.

Another building that will give work to a large number of men will be the new planning department of the Illinois Central shops, which will be rebuilt as soon as the debris can be cleared away and the plans and specifications prepared. It will cost several thousand dollars and will be more modern than the old building.

ANOTHER BOAT.

PAPERS SERVED ON CHARLSTON AND CLAIMS WERE PAID.

Will Morris and Will Goodman, colored dockhands on the steamer Charleston appeared at the custom house this morning and made a claim against the steamer for $5.50 each for services as dock hands. They had been on the boat five and one half days at the rate of $1 per day. Marshal La Rue took the papers to the boat this morning and served them on the captain of the vessel. It was learned that the rosters shipped for the round trip and laid off here. This is the reason the money was not paid them when they left the boat.

The case came up before Justice Reyer and the boat paid the claim.

CITY SOLONS

They Report on the Water Supply of Paducah at Last Night's Meeting.

IMPROVEMENT ORDINANCES

Several Committees Were Not Ready to Report and Were Granted Further Time.

NEW CONTRACTS WERE LET

The mayor presided at last night's council meeting and all the members were present.

Collections were reported as follows: City Tax Collector Kraus, $799.08; Wharfmaster Fowler, $57.50 for June and $63.50 for July; City Engineer Wilcox, $18 for surveys; Marshal Collins, $50 for the sale of two mules.

The matter of allowing Officer Tom Potter his regular salary for July was referred. He was injured in the discharge of his duty, and had to lay off one hand being badly hurt.

The following ordinances were given first passage, the work to be completed by November 15: Grading and graveling Madison from Fourteenth to Sixteenth, grading and graveling Harrison from Fourteenth to Sixteenth.

The work on Husbands from Eleventh to Twelfth, and the work on the alley from Jackson to Ohio, between Eleventh and Twelfth, was referred by the council.

L. L. Nelson's prayer for relief from over assessment was deferred, and that of S. T. Wadlington for a reduction from $350 on property on North Seventh to $250, was referred to the committee.

Pat Kilcoyne was refused poll tax, having moved from the city, but a similar prayer from the administrator of the J. H. Edwards estate was refused.

The prayer of Gilbert & Weldon for $75 paid as taxes on cotton they claim was stored with them by Memphis people was refused.

Dr. Ernest Stevens was granted a reduction in assessment from $5,000 to $4,047 on money in bank. The matter of Mrs. Fannie Kahn, who claimed she was assessed on $4,000 on mortgage bonds when she owns but $1,000, was reconsidered and referred. It was referred at a recent meeting.

The petition from Jesse Vallandigham, asking that the city pay for street improvement in consideration for his dedicating property to the city for street improvement was referred. The application of Robert Schuler, for a coffee house license at Seventh and Adams was refused.

Sam Liebel was granted coffee house license at Ninth and Washington streets.

A. B. Wintrey was granted a police house license at 1014 Court street. Wm. Orr's saloon license, 135 South Second, was transferred to J. M. Snider.

The improvements on the Central and South Side fire stations was received by the council and the balance due ordered paid the contractor.

The water company was requested to extend its mains on Jones street from Seventh to Eighth.

It was decided to prohibit dirt for filling Oak Grove from Contractor Ed Terrell at 10 cents a yard, less than is now being paid.

The following bids for the proposed construction of Sixteenth street from Jefferson to Tribune were read: J. B. Gardner, 32 cents for each side; R. W. Tully, 38 cents for each side; Ed Terrell, 30 cents for each side. The contract which had been awarded to Mr. Terrell was ratified and his bondsman, Messrs. R. O. and A. S. Terrell accepted.

The mayor read a clipping stating that the American Missionary Association had through a Nashville representative obtained a report of the death rate in Southern cities, showing that it was 20 to the 1,000 for white and 33 to 1,000 for colored people, an increase during the past ten years of 12.91 colored, and 22.91 white.

The committees were granted further time in the following matters: Investigation of Sanitary Inspector Schroeder, regarding street being constructed from Rowlandtown to the Cairo gravel road; regarding complaint being made by property owners against the ditch that runs through their property from the cemetery to Madison street; petitions of T. W. Colyer, F. P. Swift and N. F. Roberts for reduction of assessment.

The following report relative to the inspection of the water works intake was read and adopted:

Paducah, Ky., August 5, 1901. The undersigned respectfully report an investigation of the intake of

IN THE LEAD

Chairman Emery and His Crowd Have Forwarded Names to Frankfort.

AHEAD OF THE OTHERS

It is Claimed That the Recommendations Will Be Given Precedence Over Chairman Potter's.

LATEST FROM DEMOCRATIC ROW

Chairman Charles Emery and Secretary W. V. Eaton, it seems, have stolen a march on Chairman Potter and Secretary Lydon, both respective set of officers being of the Democratic county committee.

Chairman Potter has called his committee together for tomorrow afternoon at the court house to recommend to the state election board, in pursuance of the provisions of the law, five Democrats from which to select the Democratic member of the county election board, which will be composed of one Republican one Democrat and the sheriff. In the meantime Chairman Emery and Secretary Eaton have forwarded the five names to the election board, and claim that their recommendations have forestalled those to be made tomorrow by Chairman Potter and the members of his part of the committee and that the latter will not be considered.

"These fellows can meet all they please," said one of the opposition this morning, "but we have it on them, and their little meeting tomorrow will be trouble for nothing. Of course we are the committee and will pay no attention to the call of Pretender Potter."

In regard to the presiding officer of the senatorial convention at Bardwell, nothing definite has been arranged. It is probable, it is said, that a compromise will be effected by the time the convention meets, between the Emery and Potter forces for the purpose of avoiding complications. The Ferguson forces seem to have carried the counties, and as Chairman Emery and his crowd are Senator Ferguson's staunchest supporters, they could not doubt easily dominate the convention, and seat Mr. Emery as chairman.

Nothing definite is expected regarding a settlement of the claim against the row in McCracken county until after the convention. It is said that the probability is that the state central committee will decide in favor of Chairman Emery and Secretary Eaton, and that Chairman Potter and Secretary Lydon will quietly ignore the decision of the committee, and proceed independently of the other claimants, and maintain a separate county committee permanently.

The Democratic forces seem to be so divided that it is impossible to determine who is who or what is what, and the senatorial convention Saturday will be watched with a great deal of interest, as will be subsequent developments in the factional fight in the county committee.

THE TEACHERS.

Interesting Subjects Discussed Today--Work Slightly Behind.

The second day of the teachers' institute began with a larger attendance than yesterday. The enrollment is as follows:

W. J. Gilbert, Dow Craig, W. H. Elliott, Rex Cornelison, O. Harkey, Landon Reed, I. M. Ragdale, J. A. Graham, S. J. Billington, W. K. Rudolph, Willie Holland, Mrs. May Haney, Mrs. Florence Grant, J. S. Ragdale, Luther Rice, J. W. Smart, C. C. Morris, Miss Ruth Harper, Miss Mary Chambers, Miss Patti Chambers, Miss Ella Ware, W. T. Harrison, Miss Zetta Futrell, Thel Futrell, W. T. Larrabee, W. W. Morris, Jr., Miss Addie Edwards, A. L. Harper, J. P. McQueen, E. L. Heddleston, Miss Mamie Tomlinson, Miss Minnie Flinn, Mrs. Nellie Webb, Miss Margaret Acker, Mrs. Jessie B. Potts, R. A. Woods, W. W. Morris, E. L. Simmons, Mrs. Lon Harper, Miss Lannie Knott, J. D. Burrow, Miss Nida Morton, R. G. Lowe.

The institute convened this morning about 9 o'clock and after the opening exercises the outline of the work was read and the members began the discussion of the subjects.

The first thing on the program was an analysis in composition of numbers, multiplication of fractions, interest and percentage by Prof. A. M. Ragdale. The subjects were very ably discussed and the number was highly appreciated.

Miss May Raney discussed primary reading. The length of lessons, preparation of lessons by the pupils, and the preparation the teacher should make were all taken up separately and fully discussed.

Mrs. Harper discussed the new pictures in the school work and also the folly of rapid promotion of pupils.

and touched on several other very interesting points in the school work.

The meeting was adjourned until 1:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Spelling was taken up this afternoon and discussed by Miss Harper. She told how best to teach this branch and also remarked on the best books and the best manner in which to interest the pupil. She also touched on the best manner to teach dictation.

The discussion was very interesting and was highly appreciated.

Prof. J. W. Smith talked on writing and remarked on the grade where it should be introduced with the best advantages to the pupil. He also stated the best hour for practice but this point is contested and no two teachers will hardly agree on the point.

Prof. Smith remarked on the advantage of the slant and vertical hand and the best methods of teaching the same.

The session was then adjourned until tomorrow morning at 8:30. The work is just a half day behind. This was caused by the speakers taking a little too much time in their discussions and also in the delay of the members' arrival. The work will be caught up however without any very great difficulty.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 6, 1901.

Where was Col. J. R. Lemon in that senatorial affair?

Sanitary Inspector Schroeder didn't have the rollers put under him last night by the council.

Col. Sapp of Louisville ought to come down to McCracken county and get a few pointers on how to preserve harmony in the party ranks.

The Prohibition trust at Seventh and Adams streets continues. That is one locality that there will never be a saloon so long as a few of the councilmen live in it.

It is reported that a plank will be inserted in the next Democratic state platform prohibiting any candidate from voting for himself—when there is any chance of getting caught.

The streets have been "replaced" where they were recently torn up for repairs to gas mains. The chalking went along and shoveled off the tops of the Indian mounds and carried the dirt away and the rain is doing the rest.

If Senator Mc D. Ferguson and Mayor Lang desire to indulge in the pleasant Democratic pastime of throwing mud they are respectfully recommended to South Tenth street as an admirable locality in which to find an abundance of the real article. It is there that may be found the splendid street "job" that the council first rejected and afterwards so quietly accepted.

With the activity manifested in building erections, and the new houses now complete or nearing completion, Paducah has reason to feel proud of her rapid growth. Every portion of the city is expanding rapidly, and the number of houses now assured is larger than ever before at one time. Some of the proposed structures will cost thousands of dollars, and will be monuments to the enterprise of the people of the best city in the state.

Doubtless no one regrets the Illinois Central fire in Paducah last week more than our neighbor Fulton does, for it puts a quietus on the oft repeated and much exploited claim of the newspapers there that the shops of Paducah were to be moved to Fulton. The announcement that the company will at once rebuild the destroyed structure shows that the shops will never be moved from Paducah, not for a generation or two at any rate.

The question of building gravel roads throughout the county instead of dirt roads is becoming of paramount importance in McCracken, and the taxpayers are alive to the fact that dirt roads that cost thousands of dollars a year and are built one season only to be washed away the next, are costly experiments. There seems to be a growing sentiment in favor of building gravel roads exclusively. In order to insure permanent improvements for the vast outlay of money taken from the people every year. The question is one that must be ultimately settled in fiscal court, and the people should be careful in electing a board of magistrates in November.

After reading the report of the water supply made at last night's council meeting a person cannot help being enlightened. It tells a great many things about Metropolis the committee that located the intake a few years ago, and how many cities drain into the Ohio river. The report is a curiosity and was evidently prepared for the occasion by the worthy mayor himself. Any councilman could conscientiously sign it no matter what he thought about the source of water supply. The best description that can be given of the report was from a councilman himself who when asked what it contained smiled and said "Nothing." That's the whole report in a nutshell. The document ought to be stowed away in the municipal archives as the most remarkable production of councilmanial ingenuity ever heard of in Paducah.

Democratic harmony continues to prevail in McCracken county as evidenced by the ill between two heavyweight politicians Mayor Lang and State Senator Mc D. Ferguson. The latter was indiscreet enough to intimate that Mayor Lang opposed him in his canvass, but that he "carried the city notwithstanding." Mayor Lang resents the inference that Senator Ferguson could carry anything if the mayor opposed him and was provoked to do something unusual—write a card to the paper. Think of that! In it he asserts that Senator Ferguson fired the wrong barrel and missed the bird and is not kind enough to refer to the modest senator's thoughtful consideration in voting for himself in the precinct convention. Alas and alack! Such harmony! Chairman Joe Potter should be called to as an arbiter. Chairman Potter is a rising politician having been twice elected county chairman of the Democratic party within a few months—and there is no evidence that he voted for himself, either.

KENTUCKY FARMERS. FELL OUT AND FOUGHT OVER A HOG, ACCORDING TO REPORTS.

Two well known farmers of the lower part of the county, according to yesterday's Metropolis Herald, had trouble over the possession of a hog. They were Monroe Carmel and James Raynes. Says the Herald:

"Carmel first went to the farm and started off with the hog, which had been staying there for about two years when Raynes saw him and stopped him with the intention of taking it back. After some hot words Carmel drew a revolver and fired at Raynes, barely missing him, the powder burning his neck.

LABELLE PARK.

A GOOD PERFORMANCE AT THE THEATRE LAST NIGHT.

Manager Malone of the La Belle Park Stock Co., is out again after a brief illness.

"A Jealous Woman's Trouble" was presented at the park last night to a large and appreciative audience. Miss Suzanne Norwood, of New York, the new actress lately arrived was on for the first time and made a hit in her interpretation of the role of the old woman. The show contains a laugh all the way through and the audience was kept in a continual uproar throughout the entire performance. The show will run until the change of bill Thursday night. The show is well worth seeing.

PURE MILK.

INSPECTOR HESSIG MUCH IMPRESSED AT HIS INSPECTIONS HERE.

Meat and Milk Inspector Hensig has made several visits of the local milk dealers' goods and so far has found no impurities in the milk. He stopped several milk wagons on the street and made the tests and was very much gratified to find the milk in every respect.

When interviewed on the subject of impure milk he said he did not think he would find any in Paducah as all the dairies he had visited, and he had visited them all and does so every week, are clean and the milk is not "doctored" as in some places. Dr. Hensig is at Kuttawa today enjoying a much needed and well earned rest.

A LOVE LYRIC FROM THE GREEN.

(After Strain.)
As the hour the long day ends, when our friends we bid good-night,
Moe's kissed me, it felt like it was she and not her spite.
For most clearly all the rest thrills my heart through and through,
All she told me and brought, what I thought she kissed me, too.
But when, golden link or link, I would think remembrance out,
Now I'm sure she kissed me then, now again I'm sure in doubt—
Since it into Paradise in such a way I was borne,
How to this time I'll follow still I go with a sigh forlorn.
—London Spectator.

Observationsat Random

The Paducah sporting element in Paducah is all right. It is simply incorrigible. Colonel Jack Mann, of the Palmer house cigar stand, recently inaugurated a plan whereby he sells bunches of cigars, and everybody seems to be pleased with the modus operandi. He has a small leather receptacle known as a dice box, with three small cubes called dice. A man comes along and pays ten cents, and gets three throws. The total number of the points he makes is entered on a book kept there for the purpose, and when ten have paid a dime and thrown, Colonel Mann has collected a dollar, and the man who is high gets a dollar's worth of ten cent cigars. The vein of sporting blood in the average man who hangs about the hotel keeps the dice box going merrily on nearly all day, and when a man captures a prize of ten cigars, he feels well repaid for his outlay, which often has been ten cents.

Ofentimes thirty or forty dollars worth of cigars a day are sold in this way alone.

The complaining horny-handed son of toil is happy. He has had rain. His crops, according to his lamentations, were burning up, and if he hadn't had rain, there would doubtless have been a famine in the land—so he made it appear. The gullible countryman may be a gullible article when he comes to town to "see the sights," or to buy green goods or gold bricks, as the comic papers portray him, but when it comes to selling his own products he usually gets in his "grift." His ways and wiles are as many and varied as those of the "con" man he is taught to fear. His certain plays even, and has the town "fallers" skinned a block to boot.

The other day a man went on the market and came across a pile of butter beans. There was at least a hamful.

"How do you sell them?" he asked the benevolent looking gardener.

"Fifteen cents," was the reply.

"Oh, I didn't want the whole pile," earnestly rejoined the prospective purchaser. "I only wanted one or two to take home as curiosities."

A little scheme that has been worked quite frequently on the market during the hot spell was the disposition of green corn. The farmers claimed it was about all burned up, but they had a few ears they managed to pick occasionally.

They would put a big sack of the corn under the bench out of sight, and place half a dozen ears on the bench. A customer would come along and ask the price.

"Well, corn is mighty scarce," lamented the farmer, "and them's about all there is on market, I reckon. Take them six for fifteen cents."

If the customer is early worked, as will pay the fifteen cents, and if he passes again presently, will be surprised to see that the same ingenious fellow has "found" half a dozen more ears which he is trying to dispose of for another fifteen cents. In this way he manages to close out a large stock at advanced prices.

And thus the down-trodden farmer gets in his work on the shrewd city feller in dry times.

If you want to have some fun just ask Col. Ben Wellie about his barbecue. Col. Wellie is very fond of barbecue meat, and when his brother, Prof. Charles Wellie and Dr. P. H. Stewart, went out to McDouder the other day to a barbecue, he asked them to tell Mr. Clay Skinner to send him a barbecueed quarter. Needless to say, the pair of Paducahians waited until all the meat was eaten before they informed Mr. Skinner of Col. Wellie's wish. He was very much embarrassed to find that it was impossible to comply with the request, but Dr. Stewart was not to be fooled in this manner, and going about the grounds he picked up all the well-pinked ribs, chicken bones and fragments of lunch he could find laying about, and took them to Col. Wellie, neatly wrapped in a paper.

hairs of three lawyers who proceeded to initiate him into the mysteries of an army examination. They professed to be running the recruiting office and the first thing required was for the subject to strip and have the hose turned on him. He was rubbed untiringly for fifteen minutes with a scrubbing brush that would have removed the skin from a rhinoceros, beaten with a plank until he imagined he was up against a perpetual slugging match and then held by the arms while two of the "examiners" pulled him by the feet until he stretched like a rubber doll. He was strung by the hands, soaked with ice water, and then placed in front of an electric fan and made to stay there and shiver until he was completely refrigerated. He was told that he passed the best examination ever recorded out of a class of one thousand, and that as a fitting climax he would have a toe or two cut off to slow music to prove his endurance.

This was the last straw, and the yoke said that since he had come to think about it the farm was a nice idyllic place compared to the army or its recruiting office. He was suffered to depart a cleaner as well as a wiser youth and lost no time in getting as far away from legal row as possible.

CITY SOLONS.

The Paducah Water supply company, and ends same located on a straight line east from the Three Rivers Mill toward the tow head at the foot of Tennessee island, about three hundred feet below point of same near or about what is considered the dividing or flow line of the waters of the Ohio and Tennessee rivers, and in a pool claimed to be the greatest in depth of any water near Paducah.

The test of location was made by filling the stand pipe, and at a signal opening a valve thereby letting the weight of water back flow with such pressure that the location of the end of same was easily indicated by the disturbance upon the surface of the river.

The most reliable information that we have been able to obtain gives evidence of the fact that the intake was located at its present site by a committee of citizens, supplemented with the mayor and members of the council, in non-official capacity, however, as the most eligible location because of the very great depth of the pool when the water is at its lowest stage. It is understood that the cause of the water contract demanding Ohio river water was because of the possibility of the city's own drainage from the tannery and island creek, polluting Tennessee river immediately near and in front of the city, but with no objection to the water of this river above the points named which, under all manner of reasoning must be prior in quality than can possibly be water of the Ohio river which last drains so many cities along its entire length, while there is no city on the Tennessee river for hundred miles.

We respectfully call the attention of our citizens to the fact that the city of Metropolis is located but twelve miles below the city of Paducah, and takes its water supply from the water of both the Ohio and Tennessee rivers mingled with the drainage of this city of 22,000 population, yet we hear no complaint of the unhealthfulness of that city's water supply. It is our opinion that the city of Paducah is being supplied with as good water as can be obtained from any water plant which takes its supply from our great rivers, and of much better quality.

We would be glad to see some practical system of filtration adopted which would make the water clear at all seasons of the year, and with the present strong pressure for purposes of fire protection which is not had in many cities our water supply would be as near perfect as can well be made from a river water supply.

Very respectfully,

MISS MARY HALLORAN, NO BETTER TODAY—MRS. STICKNEY NOT HERE.

Miss Mary Halloran's condition is unimproved. Her sister, Mrs. G. W. Stickney, is not here, and may not come. She and her little daughter, Miss Josephine, were in a wreck on their way to Michigan and the latter is painfully hurt and Mrs. Stickney is bruised. It is not known whether Mrs. Stickney has received the message announcing her sister's critical condition.

DIED IN ST. LOUIS.

MR. T. D. HARRIS, THE WELL KNOWN GROCER, DIED THERE TODAY.

Mr. T. D. Harris, the ex-grocer, for many years in business on Second street, near the market house, died shortly before noon in St. Louis, where he had been residing with two of his sons for several months past. Mr. Harris was 53 years old, and was one of the best known men in Paducah. He leaves a large family, but only three of his sons live here at present, the others being in St. Louis and Knoxville, Tenn. His daughters also live in the latter place.

The remains will be brought to the city for interment at Oak Grove, and will doubtless arrive tomorrow some time.

ADDITIONAL PERSONALS.

Mrs. Lloyd Robertson and daughter went to Eddyville today at noon.

Mr. John Nelhaus went to Chicago today at noon.

Mrs. J. R. Martin went to Buffalo today at noon.

Mr. H. H. Evans will leave tonight for Tennessee on an extensive business trip.

SOCIAL NOTES.

The dance last evening at La Belle park pavilion given by Mrs. Richard Baker in honor of her daughter Miss Alice and her nephews Messrs. William Garrard and Garrant Barrett of Greenwood, Miss., was a most enjoyable occasion. The evening was on ideal one for dancing, and quite a number of guests were in attendance.

The P. D. C. met with Mrs. David C. Marshall on Broadway this morning. It was an especially interesting and pleasant occasion. A reading by Miss Anna Webb, of Washington City, was one of the delightful features.

NEWSPAPER CHANGE.

MR. IRVIN COBB TO BE MANAGING EDITOR OF THE DAILY DEMOCRAT.

Mr. John M. Melton, who came to Paducah three months ago to accept the managing editorship of the Daily Democrat, and who has been ill from malarial fever for the past ten days at the home of his mother in Murray, has at the advice of his physician resigned his position, effective Saturday, and will be succeeded by Mr. Irvin C. Cobb, an old Paducah boy who has made a brilliant success on the Louisville Post in the past two years.

Mr. Melton, who is one of the brightest writers in Kentucky, has done splendid work on the Democrat, and it is with regret that his resignation was accepted by the management. He will probably return to Frankfort, where he held a good position in the state auditor's office before he came to Paducah.

Mr. Cobb's many friends will welcome him back to Paducah, and wish him the same measure of success that he has been enjoying at Louisville.
